Biography of Col. Edward B. Young

THE subject of our sketch, the late Colonel Edward B. Young, in whose honor Post 87, G. A. R. is named, was born in Allentown on the 6th of September, 1836. He was educated at the Allentown Seminary, then under the administration of Rev. Dr. Kessler, and as a school boy he was distinguished for his close application to his studies and the high sense of honor which characterized him through life. When between the age of fifteen and sixteen he removed to Bellefonte, Centre Co., Pa., and served an apprenticeship of nearly 3 years at watchmaking, which trade he never followed, having been called home to enter the hardware house of Barber, Young & Co. He remained with this firm as general clerk and salesman until 1860, when he was admitted as a partner, and continued so until death. He was progressive, public spirited and liberal.

Colonel Young's career as a citizen is one reflecting honor and credit upon himself and his native city. All matters affecting the welfare of the city, state and country had his active support, and all the public trusts reposed in him were sacredly guarded. He served the 2d Ward of Allentown in Select Council, and in various other capacities. For many years he was the treasurer of the Columbia Fire Company, and felt a great interest and pride in the excellent department. In 1862, when the Confederates first invaded Pennsylvania, he entered the service with the State militia, and in June, 1863, on the second invasion, was commissioned second lieutenant of Company "H," Twenty-seventh Pennsylvania Militia. This regiment was subsequently mustered into the United States service, and joined the Army of the Potomac at Waynesboro. In the engagement at Wrightsville, Lieut. Young showed great coolness and bravery.

Whatever services Colonel Young may have rendered his fellow-citizens and country, it is as Mayor of Allentown that he is held in the highest esteem. In the Spring of 1876, after a stubborn contest, he was elected by a majority of sixty-nine. His administration of the office demonstrated the wisdom of his election. As the "Centennial Mayor" he gave the city a municipal government which was eminently judicious and successful. During the memorable labor riots of 1877, Mayor Young displayed those desirable qualities which great emergencies call forth. By his inflexible will, cool determination and wise forethought, he saved the city from scenes of violence and bloodshed which marked the suppression of the riots in other cities of the State. He saw the gravity of the situation and saved Allentown from the turbulent scenes which might have followed the administration of a less determined man.

Colonel Young was a man of more than local reputation. He was one of the prominent men of the State, a close personal friend and a member of the staff of Governors Hartranft and Hoyt. He was a delegate to the National Convention at Cincinnati in 1876, and frequently represented the county as delegate at State Conventions. He contributed liberally of his means to the successful termination of campaigns. He was one of the best workers in the Republican party, free and outspoken in his convictions, and commanded the respect of his political opponents.

Col. Young's standing in the Masonic order was very exalted. He had conferred upon him the thirty-second degree by the Philadelphia Consistory. He was a member of Barber Lodge, Allen Chapter, Allen Council and Allen Commandery, and a past officer of each. He was recognized as one of the brightest Masons in the State, and exercised great influence in the fraternity.

He was an active member of the Grand Army of the Republic, and one of the originators of Post 87, of this city, now E. B. Young Post, of which he was the first commander. At the time of his death he was quartermaster of the Post. He was also an ex-member of the Council of Administration of the State Department, Grand Army of the Republic, and represented his post at many encampments.

In the capacity of Prison Inspector he exercised the same excellent qualities that characterized all his business and administrative relations, and demonstrated the fitness of his appointment.

He was a supporter and trustee of the Presbyterian Church, and ever ready to liberally aid the cause of Christianity and morality.

The death of Col. Young occurred Dec. 30, 1879, in his forty-fourth year.

His surviving son, Edwin M. Young, is one of the prominent and representative men in the community, inheriting the characteristics of his father. He is Vice-President of the Lehigh Valley Trust and Safe Deposit Co., Treasurer of the Lehigh Portland Cement Co., and prominently identified with the large hardware concern of M. S. Young & Co.

Josiah G. Albright

There are few men in the United States to-day who have the proud and distinguished war record of Josiah G. Albright, a member iof E. B. Young Post. His brilliant career sets a proud example to the members of our service. When the call to arms came in the dark days of the Rebellion, Mr. Albright when a mere boy enlisted in Company "A" (Capt. Kuhn), 11th Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, the regiment being then commanded by the famous Colonel Richard Coulter, known throughout the country as "Fighting Dick Coulter." Young Albright received his baptism of fire at Cedar Mountain, August 9, 1862. He then took part in a succession of thrilling engagements which made the Union Army renowned; Thoroughfare Gap, Bull Run, Chantilly, Turner's Gap and South Mountain, and on September 17 at Antietam.

The Brigade to which his company and regiment was attached was reviewed on the 3d of October by President Abraham Lincoln, accompanied by Genls. McClellan and Reynolds at Fredericksburg. On January 20th, the celebrated campaign under General Burnside, known as the "Mud March," Chancellorsville was opened. The 11th Regiment was the last to cross the Rappahannock river, the movement being conducted by General Joseph Hooker. July 1, 2 and 3, 1863, found him with his organization in the Battle of Gettysburg, where, after the first day's fight, they took position on Cemetery Hill. The Corps Commander, General John Reynolds, was killed on the first day's battle near the Lacy House, on the Orange and Fredericksburg Turnpike.

It was supposed that the Corps at this time contained dismounted cavalry, but it was soon learned that the supposed troop of cavalry was none other than Hooker's Division of veterans taking up a position near the Alsop House. The fatigue and fighting to which the Division had been subjected to had terribly thinned its ranks. During 3 days it had lost its Division and 3 Brigade Commanders and an aggregate of two thousand officers and men. In consequence thereof the First Brigade, Colonel Lyle, was transferred to the Fourth; the Second, Colonel Richard Coulter, to the Third Division, commanded by General Crawford. The Third Brigade, Colonel Bowman commanding, was retained by General Warren. Under his own supervision Laurel Hill was gallantly carried, being relieved by the Gibbon's Division. Out of nine hundred men who formed the Brigade as it marched out in the morning, two hundred and twenty-nine were struck down in the narrow space in front called the Battle of Spottsylvania or Spottsville. During the month of May, 1864, the regiment participated in the marches with its accustomed valor, during which time desperate fighting took place to gain Richmond by way of the North Anna, Bethesda Church and Cold Harbor. The regiment was finally established in the lines before Petersburg, its right connecting with the 9th Corps. The enemy had well constructed breast works just in front and, about the middle of August the camp of the 11th was within three miles of the Weldon Railroad, one of the enemy's chief line of supplies. It was here on August 19th that many brave boys of the 11th Regiment were captured by the enemy and the subject of our sketch was retained a prisoner until March 1, 1865, being in Libby, Belle Isle and Salisbury prisons.

Hospital Steward Henry A. Reninger

Perhaps one of the youngest and most popular soldiers in the State is Hospital Steward Henry A. Reninger, of the Fourth Infantry, who was born May 28, 1885, and enlisted in Co. "B" on April 14, 1902, being assigned to the Hospital Corps. He served with the regiment during the industrial disturbances at Mt. Carmel and Nanticoke and during this time made his interest felt throughout the command. He is the son of Edward H. Reninger, Treasurer of the Lehigh Valley Trust and Safe Deposit Co. Young Reninger is a Freshman at Muhlenberg College and anticipates entering the Franklin and Marshall College next year.

Major Morris L. Kauffman

The late Major Morris L. Kauffman, well-known as a lawyer and promoter, was born in the City of Allentown, June 11, 1848. The foundation of his education was laid in the Allentown Academy. Later he was graduated from the Highland Military Academy in Massachusetts, and also from the Hudson River Institute and Clavcrack College in New York. He early evinced a prediliction for the law and after having finished his education he entered the law office of the late Robert E. Wright and was admitted to the Lehigh County Bar, April 4th, 1870, and was soon in the enjoyment of a large practice. Subsequently he associated himself with the Hon. Jas. S. Biery.

Major Kauffman filled many important places in the community and was a man of strong social instincts. He was one of the organizers of the Livingston Club and was its second President. He was also a member of Barger Lodge, No. 333, F. and A. M., and a past eminent commander of Allen Commandery, No. 20, Knights Templar. He had a deep interest in military affairs due probably to a great extent to the training he received in the military school. During the administration of Governor Hartranft he was commissioned Paymaster and Inspector of Rifle Practice of the Fourth Regiment Infantry, N. G. P., with the rank of Captain, and subsequently he served as an aide-de-camp to General John F. Hartranft, Divison Commander of the National Guard of Pa., with the rank of Major.

Colonel Harry C. Trexler

Colonel Harry C. Trexler, Lieutenant Colonel and Aide-de-Camp on the staff of the Commander-in-Chief, is one of the sterling and able departmental officers of our State and is ever ready to advance the best interests of the National Guard of Pennsylvania. He was commissioned Lieutenant Colonel June 8, 1895, reappointed Jan. 30, 1899, and was one of the first named for reappointment on the staff of Governor Pennypacker, showing the high esteem in which he was held by the present Chief Executive.

Colonel Trexler is a large real estate owner and for many years has been identified with the Trexler Lumber Co. He is also President of the Lehigh Portland Cement Co.

Captain Francis Deaufer

Capt. Francis Deaufer, Chief Marshal of the parade and Chairman of the General Encampment Committee of the Department of Penna , G. A. R., is one of the popular and best known veteran soldiers in the State. He is a chartered member of E. B. Young Post, No. 87, and Encampment No. 18, Veteran Legion, and a Past Commander of the same. He is untiring in his efforts to promote the welfare of these time honored organizations.

In business life he is regarded as the pioneer brewer of the northeastern section of Pennsylvania, being at the head of the firm of Deaufer & Co.

Colonel Christopher T. O'Neill

Through the energy of Colonel Christopher T. O'Neill we are enabled to witness one of the largest military escorts in the history of the State Encampments of the Grand Army of the Republic, he having made possible the parading of the entire Fourth Regiment, of which he is the efficient commander, and Company "H," of the Eighth Regiment and Company "I" of the Thirteenth Regiment, thus forming a full three battalion organization. Colonel O'Neill is always ready and willing to honor the veterans of '61 and '65 and no better exemplification of the true military spirit can be seen than that of the boys in blue of to-day acting as escort to the men whose valor preserved the Union.

He is a veteran of the Porto Rican Campaign of the Spanish-American War, having served as Lieutenant Colonel of the Fourth Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, and was mustered out with his regiment Nov. 16, 1898. He first enlisted as a private in Company "D" of the 4th Regt. Infty., Aug. 16, 1879. Received the chevrons

AT the Columbus Convention there was entire unanimity in recommending that the officers of the Association endeavor to secure an increase in the appropriation of the Federal Government to $2,000,000 annually. The money if appropriated would be distributed amongst the various States and go into the State treasuries and be of more or less benefit to the Guard, but at the same time there is a suspicion that this additional appropriation would be only used to reduce by so much the present State appropriations. In addition to his recommendation by the Convention, General Willis J. Hulings of Pennsylvania offered a resolution which met with the favor of all officers present directly in command of troops, although it was antagonized by some who seemed to think that it might interfere wth the chances of getting the increased appropriation to the States. His resolution substantially recommends to Congress the passing of a bill appropriating a sufficient sum of money for the payment to enlisted men for attendance at each of the twenty-four armory drills required each year under the Act of Congress, and the protest that the failure of an enlisted man to attend the drills would impose upon him a fine of one-half the sum allowed for attendance; that is to say if an enlisted man were allowed $1.00 to attend a drill, and were fined fifty cents for failure to attend the drill, he always would have an inducement of $1.50 to be present at the drill.

The objections to this resolution could only be two; first that such an appropriation would probably cost the Government three million dollars a year, and that the amount would deter Congress from acting. But when it is considered that an enlisted man of the regular army costs the Government in the neighborhood of $400 a year in time of peace, and if the payment of $3,000,000 for drills such such would be a mere bagatelle to a Nation so great in resources as ours, would give the command a really good organized militia of the States with the increased discipline and efficiency, such would be secured by full attendance at the twenty-four armory drills during each year, at an average of $18 per head per annum, the Government would be doing a fine stroke of business.

Every company commander knows how difficult it is to get the men to attend the armory drills. For a few days before leaving for the annual encampment the attendance is good, but it is safe to add that the average attendance at the armory drills the year around will not exceed 25 per cent. Even the smallness of attendance takes away from the interest of the drill, and a commanding officer knows that the attendance means a sacrifice of time that the men should be giving to their business and other personal matters and that if these men should be paid a small stipend for attendance the armory would fill up and drills would become interesting and as the company proves itself, the "esprit de corps," which is wonderfully helpful for any organization, would become higher and better. General Hulings, in speaking of the above, claims it to be one of the most important matters now before the military authorities. Some way to get the men into the armory, and in this practical age there seems to be no better way than the old idea of enlisting them to companies.

There need be no fear that anybody will enter the National Guard to make money out of it. Carfares and bridge tolls, to say nothing of the expense of getting someone to take his place when he goes to the drill or camp are the burdens which the enlisted man is compelled to support and if he were paid one dollar for each attendance at drill it would just about put him even on what he expends during the year's service in the Guard.

THE meeting of the Interstate National Guard Association held at Columbus, Ohio, May 4th, was a very enjoyable affair. The addresses of Secretary Root and Asst. Secretary Sanger were particularly noticeable, owing to the thread of conviction running through all that they said, that the militia, and especially the organized National Guard form the true military reliance of the country. The papers read by the officers of the regular army who were present were very admirable and instructive to those seeking technical information.

FOR many years past the question of long service medals for officers and men of the Guard has been considered. The issuance of these decorations is now an assured fact. Several pretty designs are in the hands of the Adjutant General who will shortly pass upon the selection. They are usually suspended from the neck by blue or red silk ribbon and only worn on State occasions. New Jersey gives a bronze decoration for ten years' service; silver for fifteen; gold for twenty; and for twenty-five or more years the decoration is studded with diamonds. The only organization in the State of Pennsylvania that has a similar decoration is the First Troop Philadelphia City Cavalry. This, however, is exclusively a Troop matter.

NOTES

Second Regiment

Colonel Henry T. Dechert, Second Infantry, is always alive for something that will promote the best interest of his command. His latest innovation is the establishment of a cooking school for the officers. Each individual will try his hand at the culinary art with State rations so that in the event of an emergency the knowledge thus gained can be imparted to the enlisted men.

Colonel Dechert gave a very pleasant dinner to several of his military friends on Monday evening, May 11th. Captain Kennedy, of the U. S. Army, was the guest of honor.

Third Brigade

Quite a change will take place on the Third Brigade non-commissioned staff. General Gobin will shortly announce the new appointments.

Fourth Regiment

Captain William O. Johnson, U. S. A., has completed the inspections of this regiment and in an unofficial manner expresses himself well pleased with the results and mentions particularly the very excellent showing of Company "G," located at Pine Grove, which is greatly in need of proper armory facilities.

Private Renninger, of Company "B," has been recommended for the appointment of Hospital Steward.

Capt. Rhoads, bass; Lieut. Ruch, baritone; Lieut. Wagner, tenor; and Sergt. Major Brown, alto, have formed a quartette and will render some very fine selections in both English and German for the amusement of the visiting officers on the evening of June 3d. The selection of "Ubergeblieblanes" will no doubt prove very interesting.

On June 3d, the Fourth Regiment, augmented by the addition of Company "E," Thirteenth Regiment, Easton, and Company "H," Eighth Regiment, Pottsville, will parade with the Department of Pennsylvania on the occasion of the State Encampment of the G. A. R., which will be held in Allentown during the first week in June.

The members of the Field and Staff, Hospital Corps and Field Music, located at Allentown, with Companies "B" and "D," of the Fourth Regiment, paraded as escort to the Camp of the Spanish-American War Veterans, and participated in the memorial exercises at Greenwood Cemetery on Sunday afternoon, May 24th. The same organizations acted in the same capacity on "Memorial Day," Saturday, May 30th, for the G. A. R. Posts.

Ninth Regiment

General Gobin is seriously considering the names of Captain Dietrick and Lieut. Darte, Ninth Infantry, as future members of his staff.

It is rumored that several changes will take place in the line of the Ninth and Thirteenth Infantry.

Twelfth Regiment

On May 18, Company "D," Twelfth Regiment, elected Second Lieutenant George B. Konkle to succeed First Lieutenant William G. Stair, whose commission had expired. Twenty ballots were taken for Second Lieutenant without a choice. The candidates were First Sergeant Jesse Fenstemacher and Lieutenant Robert C. Q. Clark. Lieutenant Clark was a member of the Company prior to and during the volunteer service. He enlisted in the Forty-seventh U. S. Volunteers for service in the Philippines when mustered out of the Pennsylvania Volunteers. He was made First Sergeant of his Company before it left the United States and served with his regiment until mustered out. He was a Second Lieutenant during the last year of his service in the Philippines.

Sixteenth Regiment

On Saturday, September 6, 1902, the Second Battalion of the Sixteenth Regiment, P. V. I., held a reunion at Monarch Park. The meeting was called by the battalion officers without formal organization, with the intention of forming a battalion association. The attendance was large, the interest and enthusiam great, and all participating had a most enjoyable time. Many men and officers of other battalions, and several field and staff officers were present, and at their suggestion a Regimental instead of Battalion organization was formed. The name agreed upon was "The Sixteenth Regiment P. V. I. Association." The officers elected for the first year were: President, Frank Barr; Secretary, Adjutant John R. Robinson; Treasurer, Major John M. Reed; with an Advisory Board of fifteen to be selected by the President.

It was decided to hold a reunion at Monarch Park on Saturday, August 8th 1903 (the 9th coming on Sunday).

The President appointed the following as the Advisory Board for the first year, viz.: Genl. W. J. Hulings, Col. G. C. Rickards, Lt. Col. F. E. Windsor, Maj. H. A. Hall, Captains A. D. Burns, J. F. Austin, Jas. McIlhinney, DeF. A. Wheelock, D. K. James, U. G. Lyons, A. M. Ent, Austin Clark, J. D. Croasman, J. V. Cunningham, and James M. Laird.

The President desires suggestions from the Advisory Board as to time, place, program, advertising, transportation, badges, uniform, music, entertainment, speakers, invited guests, or anything that would conduce to the success of the reunion.

IMPORTANT.—Captains, please send us at once the name and address of every member of your company so that a record may be made and a mailing list prepared.

Hoping for prompt reply we have the honor to be

Naval

The engine room men with a number of volunteers of our State Naval force, took a short trip on the Shearwater, Saturday, May 23d. The object of the trip, which was the first of the season, was mainly to try the engines and see that everything was in working order for future use.

State

The messing of the Hospital Corps has been causing much anxiety to the regimental commanders, as the new law severs them from the several companies. We think the most feasible and economical plan would be to combine them with the regimental band mess.

The regimental and company commanders will be glad to learn that a strong effort is being made to furnish them with the use of the penalty envelope. This will be used in the mailing of all official matters and will be a great saving to the officers, who are continually obliged to pay the postage from their pockets.

The new cook tent designed by Colonel Richardson, the Division Quartermaster, is a very serviceable affair. It is made of drab canvas 14 x 16 feet in size, with portable openings for the stove pipe, and the walls can be attached or detached as the weather conditions warrant. The price of this will be $72.

Several of the medical officials have strongly advocated the new sink of the army, but it is scarcely likely that these will be used at this year's encampment.

The State National Guard Association will hold its semi-annual meeting in the City of Scranton. It is stated that many important matters for the best interest of the Guard will be acted upon at this session and that a special effort will be made to secure a large attendance of officers from all sections of the State. All of the delegates attending the Convention will be entertained by Colonel Watres at his residence. The field, line and staff of the Thirteenth Infantry will also look after the interest of the out-of-town officers.

of a corporal Aug. 11, 1881, and was appointed sergeant June 21, 1884; regimental sergeant major Aug. 16, 1884; Adjutant Aug. 3, 1887; Major July 1, 1890, and Lieut. Col. Dec. 11, 1890. His commission expired Dec. 11, 1895, and he was unanimously re-elected Lieut. Colonel July 18, 1896, and on Nov. 18, 1899, he was commissioned Colonel of the 4th Regt. Infty.

Under his administration the regiment has made great strides in marksmanship and military proficiency and is rated among the best serving commands in the United States to-day.

Mr. George Ormrod

One of the prominent and representative citizens and a gentleman who is greatly interested in the welfare of our military establishment is Mr. George Ormrod. For many years he was connected with the coal industries in the Anthracite region, being President of the St. Nicholas and Girard Coal Cos. In 1880 he removed to Allentown and identified himself with the Donaldson Iron Co., located at Emaus, of which he is Manager and Treasurer. He is also Vice President of the Lehigh Portland Cement Co. Mr. Ormrod for several years was the President of the Livingston Club.

Captain Chas. Spangler

Capt. Chas. Spangler, commanding Company "D," Fourth Regt. Infty., is a born soldier and of the class of officers that constitute the backbone of the National Guard service. His record is a proud and enviable one, having first enlisted as a private in the Allen Rifles, Company "D," 4th Regt. Infty., Dec. 5, 1879. He was appointed corporal Jan. 30, 1882; sergeant Jan. 15, 1885, and on March 28, 1890, he was commissioned Second Lieutenant. Advanced to First Lieutenant April 17, 1891, and re-elected May 22, 1896. On June 19th of the same year he was unanimously chosen as the Captain of the company, a position which he is filling with much credit and distinction. During the Spanish-American War he commanded Company "D," 4th Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, and was mustered out with the company April 16, 1898.

Captain Spangler is a practical machinist and founder and is thoroughly equipped as an engineer, draughtsman and designer. He employs regularly a skilled force of twenty men and personally superintends and directs all operations of the works.

Mr. A. F. Bigelow

The Gas Company, of which Mr. A. F. Bigelow, one of our prominent citizens, is Superintendent and Manager, keeps abreast of the expanding boundaries and growing population of the City. It has just completed a new 250,000 foot holder and has otherwise made many improvements. This, however, will not suffice, for the erection of nearly 2,000 new houses here in the last two or three years, coupled with the various new contrivances for the use of gas for both illumination and fuel purposes, has so increased the demand that the present capacity of the plant has been outgrown. The company has already matured plans to meet the new condition and is now preparing to more than double the capacity and thus meet the present and anticipate future requirements. This will require a large outlay, but it is necessary, and is justified by the largely increased use of gas, due in part to the number and variety of gas stoves and ranges which have become so popular by reason of the cleanliness and economy secured, being the cheapest fuel known at the present time. Allentown has as little to complain of about the Gas Co., its management and service, as any city of the country. It is a matter of record that the city has only been without gas twice in twenty years and then only for a few hours. The lapses were due to floods, wholly unavoidable causes, and which have been remedied so that a flood would not affect its service.

The quality meets the approval of consumers and the moderate price charged appeals to the householder. It can be said of the management of this company that every movement looking to the furtherance of the city's interests, always has its energetic and material support.

At the coming meeting of the State National Guard Association it is proposed to draft an appeal asking the business community to co-operate with the Guard, especially of such persons who have in their employ men who are serving as citizen soldiers. It is felt that in this way men are less likely to jeopardize their position when attending camp or other State duties.

Colonel Geo. W. Rhoad

Colonel Geo. W. Rhoad, Commander of the J. K. Taylor Post, No. 182, located at Bethlehem, is one of the best known veterans in the State, being mustered into the Post in 1873, and served as Junior and Senior Vice Commander, and is now serving a second term as Commander. This is quite a distinguished honor and under his command the Post has been brought into one of the most prominent and prosperous conditions in the Department. Comrade Rhoad, when quite a young man, enlisted in Company "I," 153d Pennsylvania Volunteers, and owing to his aptness was soon warranted a corporal. He took part in the engagements at Chancellorsville and Gettysburg and was discharged at Hagerstown, Md., on account of expiration of term of service. In September, 1864, he re-enlisted in the 199th Pennsylvania Volunteers for one year or during the War, and was discharged in 1865 at Richmond, Va., by reason of General Orders No. 94, Series of 1865.

Capt. Mirk B. Stewart, of the Eighth Infantry, U. S. A., stationed at Governor's Island, N. Y., with Col. Sheldon Potter, Chief of Ordnance on Governor Pennypacker's staff, and Major Samuel W. Jefferies, Inspecting Officer of the Second Brigade, inspected Hampton Battery "B" at its armory in the East End, Pittsburg, on Tuesday evening, May 12. Capt. Rees was complimented on the condition of the State property and the work done by the men under his command.

On account of the Department of Pennsylvania G. A. R. Encampment to be held at Allentown, June 1st to 6th, 1903, Agents in Pennsylvania are hereby authorized to issue locally from their respective stations, round trip tickets to either South Bethlehem, Allentown or Tamaqua at rate of single fare for the round trip, with minimum of 25 cents; tickets to be sold May 31st to June 5th, good to return until June 6th, 1903, inclusive.

Agents on the Philadelphia and New York Divisions, having Form x1002 or x1003 can ticket through to Allentown with minimum rate of 40 cents. Agents west of Tamaqua having form X. 1570 can ticket through to Allentown via Tamaqua at rate applicable via that route. Agents not having the proper form to ticket through should sell to Junction point (South Bethlehem or Tamaqua) and advise passengers to repurchase at that point for Allentown.

Agents on the P. & R. Ry. in ticketing locally will use local blank (or when ticketing via Perkiomen Railroad joint local blank) excursion form. Agents on the Perkiomen Railroad will use joint local blank excursion form. Agents on the Philadelphia, Newtown & New York Railroad will ticket only to South Bethlehem, using joint local blank excursion form. Tickets to be marked "Special."

Should the number of people from any point be sufficient to warrant special tickets. Agents should make requisition for them immediately on receipt of this Circular, specifying number of tickets desired.

Chas. H. Edwards

The senior member of this firm has been for more than twenty years engaged in the highest class building construction in the Valley. J. N. Edwards and Chas. H. Edwards, Jr., sons, were admitted to partnership three years ago. It would be an exhaustive effort to enumerate the buildings erected by them. They are the regular contractors for the Lehigh Valley Traction Co., erecting nearly all the power stations, car barns, etc. Some recent work includes the remodeling of Hess Bros.' store, the Sailors' Home at Coplay, Lincoln School, the Rapaport residence and the Birdsall business building on Linden street. Chas. H. Edwards is president of the Kroll Furniture Co., a plant famous for its fine output.

CHAS. H. EDWARDS

They principally handle the hard wood flooring and the brick end of the business.

Captain J. Howard Martz

Capt. J. Howard Martz, who recently retired as City Engineer, and who has now been appointed Borough Engineer of Bangor, is regarded as one of the ablest civil engineers in the State. He is also one of the progressive business men of Allentown, having constructed in conjunction with his father, the Lyric Theatre, which is considered one of the handsomest play-houses in the State.

Captain Martz is also a veteran of the Porto Rican Campaign of the Spanish-American War and was Sergeant Major of the Fourth Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, May 10, 1898, until the regiment was mustered out of the United States service Nov. 16, 1898. He was acknowledged as one of the most efficient Sergeant Majors in the Volunteer service.

He enlisted as a private in Company "B," 4th Regiment, March 5, 1896, and was appointed Sergeant Major May 4, 1898. During the retention of the Provisional Guard he was selected by the members of Company "M" of the 7th Infantry as their Captain, and through his energy this company attained a remarkably high standard of efficiency and much regret was expressed at the mustering out of this command. It was earnestly hoped that the company would be attached to the 4th Regt., thus giving Allentown three splendid infantry organizations.

William H. Ainey

Hon. William H. Ainey, lawyer, banker and iron manufacturer of Allentown, is a native of Susquehanna County. On his father's side the family are of French Huguenot descent and on that of the mother of Scotch-Irish lineage. In 1862 Mr. Ainey became editor and proprietor of the "Lehigh Register," which he conducted with his law practice. In 1864 he was chosen President of the Second National Bank and has filled that office ever since. In 1870 he was elected President and Treasurer of the Lehigh Iron Co., now Lehigh Steel and Iron Co., and still continues to fill the same position.

In 1872 Mr. Ainey was elected for the State-at-Large a member of the Constitutional Convention of 1872-73.

Mr. Ainey has always taken an active interest in securing new industries for Allentown. It was mainly through him that the Wire Works were secured and amongst others in which he was the leading factor in securing may be mentioned the Barbour Thread Mill, Pioneer Silk Mills, and the Rionor Silk Mills and the Lotte & Mazeres Silk Dyeing Works.

Mr. Ainey became prominent before the Banker's Association in 1880, when he read a paper on the advisability and feasibility of changing the National Currency laws so as to allow the banks to issue "Asset Currency," as it is now called, so as to make it possible to give flexibility to the Nation's circulating medium. It is no small compliment to Mr. Ainey that the plan originally proposed by him in 1880 should have been unanimously approved by the Associated Banks of Eastern Pennsylvania and later by the National Association of American Bankers. Mr. Ainey's business life has been a very active and successful one and reference in this sketch can only be made to a few of the many business enterprises in which he has been and is now interested.

George Mason

Public confidence is an absolute essential for the successful conduct of the insurance business, in all branches. This is obtained in a great measure by the published statements, required by law, and enables people to intelligently discriminate between the various companies in securing policies. Mr. Mason is the superintendent of one of the youngest companies in the country, namely the Prudental, limiting its operations to American territory. The life insurance issued and paid during 1902 amounted to $272,000,000, including ordinary insurance of $87,000,000. The income during the same year exceeded $33,000,000. These are startling figures, but actual. There is another feature about the Prudential deserving of mention. The personnel is carefully looked after, the superintendents and agents must be bright and men of character. They must be represented by management of the highest order.

The Allentown office, of which Mr. Mason is the head, covers all of Lehigh County and a portion of Northampton, Berks and Bucks. This territory has a population of something more than 150,000. This district, under his management, shows a vast increase in business and now ranks fifth of all the Prudential offices in the country. This is a high tribute to Mr. Mason's efficiency, but it is not surprising to those who know him for his forceful and genial manner.

He is thoroughly imbued with local pride and like many other progressive business men forecasts a brilliant future for Allentown.

He is known as a public spirited and charitable person and in the latter work he is greatly assisted by Mrs. Mason.

Mr. John Ramsay

Mr. John L. Ramsay, Manager, The Equitable Life Assurance Society, Northeastern Pennsylvania, comes from an old and well-known family of this locality. The peculiar advantage and absolute safety of holding a policy in the "Equitable" has been demonstrated times innumerable. Without going into detail, the thoughtful and prudent people of this section have discovered the advantage of a connection with this society and are availing themselves of the munificent benefits it confers. The wonderful progress of its business in the twelve counties in this section is due to Mr. Ramsay, whose managerial capacity is well-known. He maintains seventy local offices in his territory and with a trained corps of special agents is engaged in educating the people up to a fuller understanding of the necessity and value of proper life insurance. The main office is located in the Commonwealth Building and is considered by many to be the best equipped and finest in the city. Mr. Ramsay is a convincing and statesmanlike conversationalist, and greatly interested in all that pertains to the welfare of Allentown and its vicinity.

M. J. Meixell

Since 1873, Mr. Meixell has been an active and progressive builder of Allentown and is now constructing the new Item Building. At that time he located here, coming from his native place, Strasberg, Monroe County, and at once engaged in the contracting business. His career has been a highly successful one. At first his undertakings were pitched on a limited scale, but he gradually developed into a builder of the first class. For the past few years he has been the chief contractor for public buildings erected by the city. As such he has constructed many school houses, engine houses, and police stations. Many of the large store buildings in Allentown also show his master hand. Among the latter may be mentioned Lawfer's store, the Globe store, and Lehr and Wooley's. Six houses of a good class for A. B. Ellsworth also stand to his credit. The fine residences of Robert E. Wright, S. A. Butz and George W. Shoemaker still further show his skill. His field of operation has not been limited to Allentown, as will readily be seen when attention is called to a recent notable achievement—the National School Slate Factory at Slatington. Also a public school and a fine residence at Weatherly, Pa. Much further mention might be made of his achievements and a very long list of his buildings, but his work is so well-known that it would be superfluous. Mr. Meixell always takes a lively interest in the affairs of the city and lends his aid and talent towards its upbuilding. He has accumulated propert here, is active in church life and fulfills the duties and requirements of good citizenship.

H. F. Bascom

There are few firms better known in engineering circles than Lehr and Bascom of Allentown. The business was established in 1857 by G. A. Aschbach. In 1866 A. G. Hannum became a partner and the firm became Aschbach and Hannum, who were succeeded in 1868 by Lehr and Emery.

On the death of the junior partner in 1872 and until 1894 the business was continued by S. D. Lehr.

In 1894, J. Howard Martz, a former assistant, became a partner, and in 1895 A. W. Leh also became a member of the firm. The business from 1895 to 1897 was conducted under the firm name of Lehr, Leh and Martz, as civil engineers and architects.

This firm was dissolved by mutual consent in 1897 and business was continued by the senior member of the firm until July, 1901, when H. F. Bascom, a city engineer and a graduate of the Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, and an Associate Member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, became a partner, forming the present firm. The best attention is given to surveys, plans, estimates and superintendence of construction of steam and electric railroads, water works and water power developments, sewer systems, bridges, foundations, cement manufacturing plants, macadam roads, also topographical surveys for town and suburban sites and any branch of civil, mining or hydraulic engineering.

The Repasz Band, of Williamsport, has been secured as the regimental band for the Twelfth Regiment. It is one of the best in the State and its concerts will be greatly enjoyed.

On Sunday, May 23, Company I, Twelfth Regiment, dedicated granite markers which it has erected over the graves of Richard C. Knight and B. Frank Newvine, two of its members who died of typhoid fever during the recent tour of riot duty in the coal regions. Memorial services were held, at which Rev. J. R. Baker delivered the address, and the Repasz Twelfth Regiment Band played "Nearer My God to Thee," "Lead Kindly Light," and the "Memorial Hymn."
